GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK FOR JULY, 1867. This is the first number of volume secenty-sec, and the thirty-eighth year of the "Lady Book;" and we do not feel that we are saving too much when we pronounce it a superb one. The beauty of the engravings, selection of fashions, ornamental work, and literary matter cannot be excelled. The embelishments in the July number consist of the following:

"Old Letters." One of those highly finished steel engravings which make the magazine so attractive.

Colored Fashion-plate. Five figures. "A Pleasure Party," Tinted Plate. No magazine but the "Lady's Book" gives such plates as Among the wood-cut fashlous will be found de-fashionable bounets.

The work department contains twelve designs for head trimming, for cloaks, sacks, necklaces, belts, etc.; a knitted cape; an ornament for the neck; huitted jacket; needle-case; corner for a handkerchief, etc.
